European Accredited Psychotherapy Training Institute
The European Association for Psychotherapy

The vision of EAP is to protect the interest of the independent profession of psychotherapy and the public it serves, by ensuring that the profession functions at an appropriate level of training and practice.

TO THAT END THE EAP HAS ESTABLISHED THE STATUS OF “EUROPEAN ACCREDITED PSYCHOTHERAPY TRAINING INSTITUTES” (EAPTIs) – WITH THE PRIMARY AIM OF UPHOLDING TRAINING STANDARDS AND RAISING THE QUALITY OF PRACTICE IN THE FIELD OF PSYCHOTHERAPY IN EUROPE.

EAPTIs are training institutes whose excellence and commitment to high standards have been tested and approved by the ‘European Association for Psychotherapy’. This requires a rigorous approval visit and the backing of the relevant national and modality bodies.

KEN EVANS, European Centre for Psychotherapeutic Studies, France and Channel Isles

“Since being an EAPTI we are able to recommend our student for European Certificate for Psychotherapy immediately after they graduate and by that assist them in developing their practice locally and abroad!”

DRAGOLJUB NEDIĆ, Institute for Psychodrama, Serbia

“Knowing that it is a recognised EAPTI, raises the prestige of our institute for our students and enhances the reputation of the Gestalt approach in the public arena.”

NATASHA LEBEDEVA, Gestalt Institute of Saint-Petersburg, Russia

“For future students, EAPTI offers the guarantee of an internationally standardized and accredited program. Graduated therapists have the benefit of knowing they have attained professional competence and have a professional body for reference.”

LIDIJA PECOTIC, Gestalt Psychotherapy Training Institute Malta

“The EAPTI is a statement of the quality of training that students and trainers have been seeking. It is also a public statement of our profession and its ethics. Further, we believe that it supports new graduates in building their rightful place in the therapeutic field.”
