

Journal on Psychodrama with children and youth
(ZPS Special edition, Springer)

Call for Articles

We are delighted to invite you to submit an abstract for consideration for the Special edition on Psychodrama with children and youth.

The Journal is peer reviewed and will assure high quality of publishing and recognition in the scientific and professional community. This edition will be connected to the ZPS (Journal for Psychodrama and Sociometry) which is published by Springer.

The aims and scope of this journal are to:

- include a broad range of psychodrama, sociodrama, sociometry and action methods in psychotherapy and education with children and young people.
- promote and share current and relevant high quality articles in psychodrama and action methods practice, training and research.
- have a balance of contributions including research, innovations in theory, methodology and application in practice.
- give a platform for practitioners, trainers and researchers in psychodrama with children and youth upholding professional excellence.
- enhance integration of psychodrama and action methods through encouraging sharing and cooperation with other modalities.
- reflect application in different settings, e.g. individual and group-work, family therapy, application of psychodrama and action methods in kindergartens and schools.
