TRAINING COMMITTEE REPORT

Dear Colleagues,

I wish everyone strength and health in the difficult period we are going through. A period that requires a lot of patience; clear and stable reference points for each of us. I know how versatile, inventive and patient we must be in the current conditions, both as directors of our Institutes and as trainers. Perhaps we can learn a lot from this particular situation.

Meanwhile, FEPTO as an organisation remains active and present for all of us. In this active position it is important for the Chair to be informed and updated, in order to be more effective in the current conditions and needs of the FEPTO members. In this process, the Chair of the Training Committee has sent an email to all Institutes with three questions regarding the Trainers in Psychodrama and Sociodrama. (If you haven't received it, please write back to us, so it can be resent, since some emails seem to be inactive or outdated). The purpose of the questions is to help us better understand the developments of our Institute's members.

Questions:

1) In your Institute, what are the Standards to become a "Trainer" in Psychodrama Education?

2) In your Institute, do you have independent training for Sociodrama?

If yes what are its Standards?

3) If you have Sociodrama Training in your institute, what are the Standards to become a Trainer?

Awaiting for your replies here: yorgoschaniotis@gmail.com

Furthermore, I am pleased to mention the collaboration with the Chair of Membership committee at the meeting that took place on November 21st, 2020 on the topic: "FEPTO Institutes - Present Situation and New Possibilities". It was a meeting based on topics deriving from the answers of the Questionnaire, which you had received previously from the Chair of the Training Committee. It was an important and dynamic collaboration meeting of the two Chairs and the members of FEPTO who attended this meeting. Our goal is to continue this collaboration.

Dear Members, I am available for any further information or questions.

With best regards.

Georgios Chaniotis

Chair of Training Committee
